Glossary

Term	Description
Administrative arrangements	Administrative Arrangements Orders set out the principal responsibilities of government ministers and their portfolios.
Consultancies	A consultant, which may be an individual or an organisation, provides expert advice with recommendations to a department/agency as the basis for making a decision or taking a certain course of action.
Machinery-of-government changes	The term ‘machinery-of-government changes’ (MOG changes) is used to describe a variety of organisational or functional changes which may affect the Queensland Government at any point in time. Some common MOG changes are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • changes to the Administrative Arrangements following a decision to abolish or create a department/agency or to move functions/responsibilities between departments/agencies • creation of a new statutory body, or abolition of a statutory body • movement of functions into, or out of, the Queensland public sector.
Priority development area	A priority development area is a site declared by the state government to facilitate the development of land in Queensland for economic development or community purposes.
Regional plans	Regional plans operate in conjunction with other statutory planning tools, including state planning policies, local government planning schemes, state planning regulatory provisions and development assessment processes. Regional plans can be drafted as statutory instruments under the Sustainable Planning Act 2009 .
State development area	State development areas are clearly defined areas of land established by the Coordinator-General to promote economic development in Queensland.
Whole-of-government	Whole-of-government is a term used to refer to all Queensland Government departments and agencies.
